Trey Weaver's Corn Fritters

Drain one, 1-pound can whole kernel corn into a measuring cup. Add enough milk to liquid that was drained from corn to measure 1 cup. Sift together 1 ½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, and ¾ teaspoon salt. Combine 1 beaten egg, milk mixture, and corn. Add to dry ingredients. Mix just till flour is moistened.

Drop batter from tablespoon into deep, hot fat (375°). Fry until golden brown, about 3 minutes. Drain on paper towels. Serve with warm maple-flavored syrup. Makes about 18.
